MICRODERMABRASIONS

Microdermabrasions are one of the most frequently sought after non-surgical, non-invasive skin care treatments available. It is now one of the most popular procedures for:

- *Reducing fine lines and minor scars
- *Treating acne blemishes
- *Removing sun and age spots
- *Cleansing enlarged and clogged pores, blackheads and whiteheads
- *Restoring a healthy, smooth feel to the skin
- *Helping fight signs of aging
- *Hyperpigmentation

A precise stream of aluminum oxide crystals is directed through a hand piece onto the skin. This loosens and exfoliates the top layer of dead cells. The skin is simultaneously vacuumed to reveal a fresher, healthier looking you. This age-defying process can give a brighter, smoother appearance to any skin area in need of exfoliation such as the face, neck, hands, chest and back.

Microdermabrasions also promote the production of new cells in the basal layers of the dermis and stimulated the growth of collagen to further smooth and improve skin tone and appearance. Best results are achieved through a series of treatments and a regular maintenance program.
